

Makes Welsh as sweet as Ditties highly penn'd,
Sung by a faire Queene in a Summers Bowre,
With rauishing Diuision to her Lute.

Glend. Nay, if thou melt, then will the tunne madden.

The Lady speaks againe in Welsh.

Mort. O, I am Ignorance it selfe in this.

Glend. She bids you, not to be slow

On the wanton Rushes lay you downe,

And rest your gentle Head vpon her Lappe,

And she will sing the Song that pleaseth you,

And on your Eye-lids Crowne the God of Sleepe,

Charming your blood with pleasing heauinesse;

Making such difference betwixt Wake and Sleepe,

As is the difference betwixt Day and Night,

The houre before the Heauenly Harneis'd Teeme

Begins his Golden Progresse in the East.

Mort. With all my heart Ile fit, and heare her sing:

By that time will our Booke, I thinke, be drawne.

Glend. Doe so:

And those Musicians that shall play to you,

Hang in the Ayre a thousand Leagues from thence;

And straight they shall be here: sit, and attend.

Hotsp. Come Kate, thou art perfect in lying downe:

Come, quicke, quicke, that I may lay my Head in thy Lappe.

Lady. Goe, ye giddy-Goose.

The Musicke plays.

Hotsp. Now I perceiue the Deuill vnderstands Welsh,

And 'tis no maruell he is so humorous:

Byrlady hee's a good Musitian.

Lady. Then would you be nothing but Muscicall,

For you are altogether gouerned by humors:

Lye still ye Theefe, and heare the Lady sing in Welsh.

Hotsp. I had rather heare (Lady) my Brach howle in Irish.

Lady. Wouldst haue thy Head broken?

Hotsp. No.

Lady. Then be still.

Hotsp. Neyther, 'tis a Womans fault.

Lady. Now God helpe thee.

Hotsp. To the Welsh Ladies Bed.

Lady. What's that?

Hotsp. Peace, shee sings.

Heere the Lady sings a Welsh Song.

Hotsp. Come, Ile haue your Song too.

Lady. Not mine, in good sooth.

Hotsp. Not yours, in good sooth?

You sweare like a Comfit-makers Wife:

Not you, in good sooth; and, as true as I liue;

And, as God shall mend me; and, as sure as day;

And giuest such Sarcener suretie for thy Oathes,

As if thou neuer walk'st further then Finsbury.

Sweare me, Kate, like a Lady, as thou art,

A good mouth-filling Oath; and leaue in sooth,

And such protest of Pepper Ginger-bread,

To Velvet-Guards, and Sunday-Citizens.

Come, sing.

Lady. I will not sing.

Hotsp. 'Tis the next way to turne Taylor, or be Red-

breast teacher: and the Indentures be drawne, Ile away

within these two howres: and so come in, when yee will.

Glend. Come, come, Lord Mortimer, you are as slow,

As hot Lord Percy is on fire to goe.

By this our Booke is drawne: wee'le but seale,

And then to Horse immediately.

Mort. With all my heart.

Scena Secunda.

Enter the King, Prince of Wales, and others.

King. Lords, giue vs leaue:

The Prince of Wales, and I,

Must haue some priuate conference:

But be neere at hand,

For wee shall presently haue neede of you.

Exit Lords.

I know not whether Heauen will haue it so,

For some displeasing seruice I haue done;

That in his secret Doome, out of my Blood,

Hee'le breede Reuengement, and a Scourge for me:

But thou do'st in thy passages of Life,

Make me beleue, that thou art onely mark'd

For the hot vengeance, and the Rod of heauen

To punish my Mistreadings. Tell me else,

Could such inordinate and low desires,

Such poore, such bare, such lewd, such meane attempts,

Such barren pleasures, rude societie,

As thou art matcht withall, and grafted too,

Accompanie the greatnesse of thy blood,

And hold their leuell with thy Princely heart?

Prince. So please your Maiesty, I would I could

Quit all offences with as cleare excuse,

As well as I am doubtlesse I can purge

My selfe of many I am charg'd withall:

Yet such extenuation let me begge,

As in reproofe of many Tales deuiz'd,

Which oft the Eare of Greatnesse needes must heare,

By smiling Pick-thankes, and base Newes-mongers;

I may for some things true, wherein my youth

Hath faultie wandred, and irregular,

Finde pardon on my true submission.

King. Heauen pardon thee:

Yet let me wonder, Harry,

At thy affections, which doe hold a Wing

Quite from the flight of all thy ancestors.

Thy place in Councell thou hast rudely lost,

Which by thy younger Brother is supply'd;

And art almost an alien to the hearts

Of all the Court and Princes of my blood.

The hope and expectation of thy time

Is ruin'd, and the Soule of euery man

Prophetically doe fore-thinke thy fall.

Had I so lauish of my presence beene,

So common hackney'd in the eyes of men,

So stale and cheape to vulgar Company;

Opinion, that did helpe me to the Crowne,

Had still kept loyall to possession,

And left me in reputelesse banishment,

A fellow of no marke, nor likelyhood:

By being seldome seene, I could not stirre,

But like a Comet, I was wonder'd at,

That

That men would tell their Children, This is hee:

Others would say, Where, Which is Bullingbrooke.

And then I stole all Courtisie from Heauen,

And drest my selfe in such Humilitie,

That I did plucke Allegiance from mens hearts,

Lowd Showts and Salutations from their mouthes,

Euen in the presence of the Crowned King.

Thus I did keepe my Person fresh and new,

My Prefere like a Robe Pontificall,

Ne're seene, but wonder'd at: and so my State,

Seldome but sumptuous, shew'd like a Feast,

And woune by rarenesse such Solemnitie.

The skipping King hee ambled vp and downe,

With shallow Iesters, and rash Bauin Wits,

Soone kindled, and soone burnt, carded his State,

Mingled his Royaltie with Carping Fooles,

Had his great Name prophaned with their Scornes,

And gaue his Countenance, against his Name,

To laugh at gybing Boyes, and stand the puth

Of euery Beardlesse vaine Comparatiue;

Grew a Companion to the common Seeretes,

Enscor'd himselfe to Popularitie:

That being dayly swallowed by mens Eyes,

They surfetted with Honey, and began to loathe

The taste of Sweetnesse, whereof a little

More then a little, is by much too much.

So when he had occasion to be seene,

He was but as the Cuckow is in Iune,

Heard, not regarded: seene but with such Eyes,

As sicke and blunted with Communicie,

Affoord no extraordinarie Gaze,

Such as is bent on Sunne-like Maiestie,

When it shines seldome in admiring Eyes:

But rather drowz'd, and hung their eye-lids downe,

Slept in his Face, and rendred such aspect

As Cloudie men vse to doe to their aduersaries,

Being with his presence glutted, gorg'd, and full.

And in that very Line, Harry, standest thou:

For thou hast lost thy Princely Priuiledge,

With vile participation. Not an Eye

But is aware of thy common sight,

Sauie mine, which hath desir'd to see thee more:

Which now doth that I would not haue it doe,

Make blinde it selfe with foolish tenderesse.

Prince. I shall hereafter, my thrice gracious Lord,

Be more my selfe.

King. For all the World,

As thou art to this houre, was Richard then,

When I from France set foot at Rauenspurgh;

And euen as I was then, is Percy now:

Now by my Scepter, and my Soule to boot,

He hath more worthy interest to the State

Then thou, the shadow of Succession;

For of no Right, nor colour like to Right.

He doth fill fields with Harneis in the Realme,

Turnes head against the Lyons armed Iawes;

And being no more in debt to yeeres, then thou,

Leades ancient Lords, and reuerent Bishops on

To bloody Battails, and to brusing Armes.

What neuer-dying Honor hath he got,

Against renowned Douglas? whose high Deedes,

Whose hot Incursions, and great Name in Armes,

Holds from all Souldiers chiefe Maioritie,

And Militarie Title Capitall.

Through all the Kingdomes that acknowledge Christ,

Thrice hath the Hotspur Marr'd, in swathing Clothes,

This Infant Warrior, in his Enterprises,

Discomfited great Douglas, ta'ne him once,

Enlarged him, and made a friend of him,

To fill the mouth of deepe Defiance vp,

And shake the peace and safetie of our Throne.

And what say you to this? Percy, Northumberland,

The Arch-bishops Grace of Yorke, Douglas, Mortimer,

Capitulate against vs, and are vp.

But wherefore doe I tell these Newes to thee?

Why, Harry, doe I tell thee of my Foes,

Which art my neer'st and dearest Enemy?

Thou, that art like enough, through vassall Feare,

Base Inclination, and the start of Spleene,

To fight against me vnder Percies pay,

To dogge his heeles, and curtsie at his frownes,

To shew how much thou art degenerate.

Prince. Doenot thinke so, you shall not finde it so:

And Heauen forgieue them, that so much haue sway'd

Your Maiesties good thoughts away from me:

I will redeeme all this on Percies head,

And in the closing of some glorious day,

Be bold to tell you, that I am your Sonne,

When I will weare a Garment all of Blood,

And staine my fauours in a bloody Maske:

Which waite away, shall scowre my shame with it.

And that shall be the day, when ere it lights,

That this same Child of Honor and Renowme,

This gallant Hotspur, this all-prayed Knight,

And your vnthought-of Harry chance to meet:

For euery Honor fitting on his Helme,

Would they were multitudes, and on my head

My shames redoubled. For the time will come,

That I shall make this Northerne Youth exchange

His glorious Deedes for my Indignities:

Percy is but my Factor, good my Lord,

To engrosse vp glorious Deedes on my behalfe:

And I will call him to so strict account,

That he shall render euery Glory vp,

Yea, euen the sleightest worship of his time,

Or I will teare the Reckoning from his Heart.

This, in the Name of Heauen, I promise here:

The which, if I performe, and doe suruiue,

I doe beseech your Maiestie, may salue

The long-growne Wounds of my intemperance:

If not, the end of Life cancels all Bands,

And I will dye a hundred thousand Deaths,

Ere breake the smallest parcell of this Vow.

King. A hundred thousand Rebels dye in this:

Thou shalt haue Charge, and soueraine trust herein.

Enter Blunt.

How now good Blunt? thy Lookes are full of speed.

Blunt. So hath the Businesse that I come to speake of.

Lord Mortimer of Scotland hath sent word,

That Douglas and the English Rebels met

The eleuenth of this moneth, at Shrewsbury:

A mightie and a fearefull Head they are,

(If Promises be kept on euery hand)

As euer offered soule play in a State.

King. The Earle of Westmerland set forth to day:

With him my sonne, Lord John of Lancaster,

For this aduertisement is fife dayes old.

On Wednesday next, Harry thou shalt set forward:

On Thursday, wee our selues will march.

Our meeting is Bridgenorth: and Harry, you shall march
